

US Army Corps of Engineers®

Vicksburg District

Lieutenant Colonel James E. (Jim) Langan

Deputy Commander
Vicksburg District
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Lieutenant Colonel James E. (Jim) Langan became Deputy Commander of the Vicksburg District on 15 July 2002. He came to the Vicksburg District from the engineer staff of U.S. Army Europe and 7th Army, Heidelberg, Germany, where he was Chief of the NATO Infrastructure Division.

Lieutenant Colonel Langan is a 1981 distinguished academic and military graduate of The Virginia Military Institute, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering. He holds a Masters Degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Virginia (1983), and a Ph.D. In Civil Engineering from the University of Missouri-Rolla (1994). LTC Langan's military education includes U.S. Army Ranger and Airborne Schools, the Engineer Officer Basic and Advanced Courses, and the Command and General Staff College. Since 1987, he has been a registered Professional Engineer in Virginia.

LTC Langan has served in a variety of assignments in both the United States and overseas. Most recently, during his assignment in Germany, he also served as the Operations Officer in the V Corps Staff Engineer Section, and Executive Officer for the 94th Engineer Combat Battalion (Heavy), with deployments to Bosnia (1998) and Kosovo (1999). From 1994 to 1997 he served as an Instructor and Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, NY.

He is a member of the Society of American Military Engineers, Army Engineer Association, the American Society of Civil Engineers, and the Phi Kappa Phi and Chi Epsilon Honor Societies.

Lieutenant Colonel Langan is from Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.